

School Attendance REALLY Pays Off

Congratulation goes to fourth grade student Casey Burcham. Casey was the Alcorn Central Elementary winner of an Apple IPOD Touch. Casey's name was among hundreds of others that were eligible for the drawing. Superintendent, Stacy Suggs was on hand to do the honors. The IPOD Touch was one of the many prizes that were offered throughout the district to promote good school attendance during the months of October and November. The contest ran from October 1st through December the 10th. For every week that a student was present all week, their name was placed into the box. The students had the opportunity to have their names entered into the box up to 9 times, which would indicate perfect attendance for the entire 9 week period.
